1 An example of how this could work

1.1 Introduction

This is the first section. Each section is a list with a title as the first member, and paragraphs and special elements (such as images) as the other members.

This piece of text is in a new member of the list, so it appears as a separate paragraph.

1.2 Bullet points

This is an example of bullet points:

- First item

- Second item

- Third item

Each "special element" consists of a list with an identifier (such as "points" or "image") as the first member.

2 An example image

Figure 1: This is a description of the example image.